Dues payments may be deductible in part as ordinary and necessary business expenses for federal income tax purposes. Given the significant portion of TRA resources that are directed to representing the restaurant industry before state and federal officials, 17.5% of your dues are non-deductible. Dues and similar payments are not deductible as charitable contributions. By becoming a member, you are authorizing us to send you information on products and services via phone, email and fax under U.S.C47§ 227. TRA dues are not refundable or transferable.

*The TRAction Fund is your industry's "war chest" that will strike back with the legal, lobbying and media firepower to fight anti-business initiatives on the local, state and federal levels.
The TRA Education Foundation is a 501(c)3 non-profit organization. Its mission is to provide educational opportunities for restaurant careers in Texas. Donations are tax-deductible.
